AOSC 2019 – The Must-Attend Orthodontic Event in The Region is Coming Up This February 2019

21 January 2019, Singapore – Surpassing the numbers achieved the last edition, the 2019 Association of Orthodontists (Singapore) Congress (AOSC) has grown into the must-attend orthodontic event in the Asia Pacific region with sold-out workshops, an expanded exhibition space and record-breaking registration numbers. AOSC 2019 edition is set to take place in Marina Bay Sands, Singapore from 22 – 24 February 2019.

Organised by the Association of Orthodontists (Singapore), AOSC 2019 will host renowned speakers from the orthodontic community including keynote speakers, Dr. David Sarver, Dr. Birte Melsen and Dr. Rolf Behrents. Boasting a comprehensive conference programme, attendees can look forward to 8 pre- and post-congress workshops, the highest number of workshops held to-date, and an exciting three-day conference programme covering a wide variety of orthodontic topics. “This year’s congress aims to provide attendees with valuable knowledge, ideas and new perspectives to help dental professionals Decode. Discover. Transform their orthodontic practice,” shared Dr. Mohan, President, Association of Orthodontists (Singapore).

The extensive scientific programme has also proven to be a great draw for attendees. Besides experiencing a growth in registration numbers, AOSC 2019 will welcome attendees from neighbouring and distant countries including Belgium, France, Russia and more. The positive attendee numbers also translated into an expansion of the event space and an increase in exhibitor numbers. 29 exhibiting companies representing over 100 brands is set to participate in AOSC 2019, marking a 20% increase in brands being represented. Attendees can also look forward to discovering the latest products and solutions from leading Orthodontic companies including Biolux, Henry Schein, Invisalign and more.

Besides the Congress and Exhibition, AOSC 2019 also unveiled several new initiatives including a collaboration with the Faculty of Dentistry, National University of Singapore for an inaugural Residents' Symposium which includes a tour of the new and state-of-the-art facilities of the National University Centre for Oral Health Singapore (NUCOHS). In addition, the Association has also committed to give back to the society by raising funds for the Children's Cancer Foundation (CCF) through AOSC 2019. “As an association, besides enhancing the knowledge and skills of our community and peers, we also aim to create a positive impact in society. Through a series of activities organised including an exclusive movie screening and a charity car drive, we hope that more awareness for childhood cancer can be raised,” explained by Dr Seow Yian San, Chairperson, Organising Committee of the Association of Orthodontists (Singapore) Congress 2019.

Held at iconic Singapore attractions, the Welcome Reception and AOS Gardens by the Bay Run aims to elevate the attendee's event experience while taking in the sights and sounds of Singapore. The fully subscribed social programme includes an evening reception at the largest sea aquarium in Southeast Asia where delegates can admire the marine life through the world's largest viewing panel while unwinding with an evening of fun and networking. Returning for the third edition, participants of the signature run will gather for a 2km run along Gardens by the Bay prior to the second day of the congress.
